Atlantis Consulting concludes its participation in the ART4SEA project

Atlantis Consulting successfully concluded its participation in the European ART4SEA project, funded by the Creative Europe Programme. ART4SEA is an innovative initiative that brought art, science and marine conservation into a creative dialogue, aiming to strengthen Ocean Literacy and raise environmental awareness.

The final outcomes of the ART4SEA project were presented in Barcelona on 16 January 2026, during an event hosted by the Institut de Ciències del Mar (ICM-CSIC) in Spain. The event brought together researchers, cultural organisations and the artistic community, further reinforcing the dialogue between art and marine science. Finally, the meeting provided the opportunity for synergies with projects with a common orientation, such as SUNBIO and TIDAL ArtS.

• ART4SEA Grand Event

The highlight of the project was the ART4SEA Grand Event, held in Ustica, Italy, in September 2025. The event attracted a large audience and featured live performances and the presentation of 24 artistic works, showcasing the power of art as a driver of environmental change.

- ART4SEA activities in Greece – Coordinated by Atlantis Consulting

Atlantis Consulting played a central role in coordinating the Greek activities of the ART4SEA project. These included an artistic residency in Alonissos, a sculpture exhibition and murals in Patitiri, Alonissos, as well as the screening of a mini-documentary and interactive digital artworks at the Public Information and Awareness Centre (PIAC) of Alonissos, located in the old village.
